Commander's Corner

Hello Everyone!

It is time again for me to say a few words about what we are doing at the Post. We have made a few improvements and it is all for the good of the Post. If you have been to the Post and ventured out on our deck, you had to notice our new door. Believe me when I say it sure is better. We have put a new pad out back for the trash pickup and it looks great. We have finalized our drawing for our stairs off the deck and are planning on starting them soon. We will also be putting permanent lighting and fans on the deck as well.

The National Guard has agreed to furnish us with a truck for the 4th of July parade. If you are interested in riding, let us know at the Post and we will get you the info on the time and place.

We had one of our members by the name of Zachary Deckard die in a motorcycle accident on June 3rd. He was just 28 years old. Our thoughts and prayers are with his family and loved ones. There will be a benefit ride on Saturday July 11th from our Post starting at 12noon. Sign up will start at 10:00am.

I am looking forward to seeing everyone at the Post soon. Come on out and join us for fun and comradeship, food and adult beverages. Kids are always welcome at Post 604 too.

Post 604 Men's Auxiliary

Well Gang,

I'm Back!! My stay at The Heart Center was short this time. The sternum has been put back together with titanium plates and screws. The ole ticker has been rebuilt and now I have a Titanium Chest (Ford don't have anything over me with their aluminum body, ha ha).

Friday fish dinners are still doing very well and the tenderloins are too. July 19th is our next NASCAR event, the 2nd Friday is All-U-Can Eat fish. Texas Holdem tourney is still going strong. If you haven't been to the Post recently you should stop in and check us out and see what you are missing.

I know this has been repeated several times these past few months (because of my absence). But I want to thank the Men's Auxiliary personally for everything they are doing at the Post for me. This has to be the Best Group of volunteers anywhere. We also have a special group of ladies that provide our desserts. Thank you - one and all - may God Bless.

Post 604 Ladies Auxiliary

Hi Ladies,

Here it is, July already. Please, if you haven't already, pay your 2015-16 dues. We will be sending out dues letters and a Poppy card. This year was a very bad year for us. Our main contributors are people that go to the Memorial Service at Valhalla Memory Gardens. This year, because of the rain and wind, we were unable to get around to the people. We are hoping when you send your dues you can add a little bit for our disabled veterans.

While you are at the club be sure to thank Dorothy White for the beautiful seasonal and holiday decorations. She does a wonderful job with all the many other things she does for our club. We really appreciate her dedication.

Our next taco dinner, all-u-can-eat, will be on July 24th from 6 to 8 pm. This always goes over well and we have a great time. You can't beat it and all for only $6.00. The Friday night dinners are doing really well.

Some of our Ladies Auxiliary members tend bar quite often, so please feel free to come and join us especially Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Actually come anytime, we will be happy to see and serve you.

By the time you read this, we will have already attended the State conference. It is always a learning experience. We come back with helpful knowledge which helps us improve and inspire our auxiliary.

Well girls, that's it for this month. For those that are ill or have lost a loved one, my prayers and thoughts are with you and may God bless you. May god bless all our troops and their families.

-----Until Next Month-----

Lawrence Edwards

Seventy years ago, in June 1945, Lawrence Edwards was bleeding to death. He held his upper leg wound together and tried not to lose consciousness. To release his grip would be to die.

Following Pearl Harbor three years earlier, Lawrence had gone through basic training at Camp Wheeler, Georgia, then spent over two years training on the west coast at camps Adair, Medford, Fort Lewis, and near San Diego. Finally, his 383rd Regiment, 96th Division, shipped out to Hawaii for a month and then landed in the third wave on the island of Leyte. Lawrence was in combat from October 20, 1944 to March 1945 in the Philippines.

Lawrence landed on Okinawa on April 1, 1945 and moved inland into some of the most lethal combat of the Second World War.

The casualty rate for US forces became progressively higher as landings neared the Japanese home islands. Admiral Chester Nimitz' goal was to capture and control strategic islands along a path toward the Japanese home islands, bringing U.S. bombers within range and preparing for a possible invasion. By early 1945, U.S. forces had advanced as far as Iwo Jima and Okinawa, within 340 miles of mainland Japan, at a great cost to both sides. On Okinawa alone, during 82 days of fighting, approximately 100,000 Japanese troops, 12,510 Americans, and somewhere between 42,000 and 150,000 Okinawan civilians were killed. Lawrence did not know it, but the hell he and his companions went through was one of the deciding factors in the decision to avoid an invasion of Japan by using the atomic bomb.

Lawrence was acting squad leader at the time he and his men came under direct fire from Japanese defenders. He was acting squad leader because his squad leader had been killed earlier that day. Hearing the sound, Lawrence turned in time to see his BAR (Browning Automatic Rifle) man, a good man and a good friend, killed by a shot to the head. Minutes later, Lawrence's left leg was split from hip to knee by shrapnel from a mortar round. Weak from loss of blood and unable to walk, the remaining soldiers hid him in a cave – a cave he shared with the bodies of several dead Japanese. The new acting squad leader explained to Lawrence that there was nothing else they could do for him while under heavy fire in daylight, and promised to try to return at night to get him. After darkness, two soldiers did return to carry Lawrence back to medical attention. One of those two litter carriers was killed the next day. Lawrence was evacuated to Guam for two weeks, then treated in Hawaii for more two weeks – liquid penicillin forced into his wound through a tube every four hours – then shipped to Hines Hospital near Chicago where he was treated for four additional months. (The Hines Hospital is now part of the Department of Veterans Affairs system.) He had lost so much blood in Okinawa that his right arm was permanently scarred from field surgeries to force blood into his collapsed veins. There was no way he should have survived. Lawrence celebrated V-E Day (Victory in Europe) as a patient in Hines, and V-J Day (Victory over Japan – the end of World War II) back home near Bloomington with Mellie, his wife.

Although physically separated during Lawrence's war years and initial convalescence, he and Mellie were always together in spirit. They wrote letters faithfully, about the only way to communicate in those days. Today they are reunited. Mellie passed away in 2008, Lawrence in 2011. Their daughter obtained a memorial set of Lawrence's medals and badges to display in her home through the National Personnel Records Center in St. Louis.

Seventy years ago. Okinawa. Never forget.
